

The BEES summer school

How to write and publish your paper

A highly interactive workshop using real examples of dermatology papers

Wednesday 10th August 201
10.00am – 4.00pm

University of Nottingham, Kings Meadow Campus, Lenton Lane, Nottingham NG7 2NR

Aim: to help dermatology specialist registrars improve paper writing skills and publication success

Objectives:

1. To overcome the common errors in writing introduction, methods, results and discussion sections
2. To identify those factors that make a good case report
3. To be aware of the main checklists for writing papers such as CONSORT
4. To know when to ask for help with statistics
5. To improve chances of paper acceptance by replying to referees appropriately
6. To become aware of bad practices and how to counter them
7. To get some tips from editors on what makes a good paper

Format:

Mixed methods including short framing talks from editors, working in pairs and small groups with problems and papers, role play and summative sessions.

Course Convenor: Professor Hywel Williams, Centre for Evidence-Based Dermatology, Queen's Medical Centre, Nottingham

Course fee: Full fee including registration, lunches and refreshment: £80. Places are limited to first 22 applicants.

Hotel accommodation if required can be found nearby at an additional cost, and information will be sent to those interested on request

Applications: Please make cheques payable in sterling on a British bank to 'British Epidermo-Epidemiology Society' and return with the registration form to:

Miss Margaret Whittingham, Administrator to Professor HC Williams,
